Letter from the Headmaster

On Tuesday we held our Christmas Concert at RADA Studios. Thank you to all those parents who attended and made it such a special evening, especially for our students to perform in front of such a large audience. What always impresses me about Portland Place students is the range of music they enjoy playing and listening to and appreciating. In this one concert we heard Tchiakovsky, Bach and Bernstein; The Beatles, Eurythmics and Ed Sheeran; classical, jazz, funk, pop, soul, rock and a rendition of Jingle Bells. Add a slice of DJing and a version of Mission Impossible and you have a mix “eclectic” barely does justice to. All a huge testament to our students abilities and the hard work of Mr Hill and our whole Music team.

It has been said that a person’s taste in music tells you a lot about them. I don’t know how true that is but I was once asked to nominate my Desert Island Discs as part of a school assembly. Desert Island Discs is a Radio 4 show that has been running for 76 years now. If you are not familiar with the idea, you choose the eight pieces of music you would want to have with you if marooned on a desert island. My choices were Beethoven’s 9th symphony; Miles Davis - Sketches of Spain; Jeff Wayne’s War of the Worlds; Led Zeppelin’s Achilles’ Last Stand; Rush - Natural Science; Jethro Tull - Heavy Horses; The Imagined Village version of Cold Haily Rainy Night; Metamorphoses by Philip Glass. If asked again today I might change a few. I’d have to squeeze Janacek’s Kreutzer Sonata in somewhere, a piece by Wardruna from their Runaljod series and something by Eliza Carthy. Go and give them a listen – hopefully you find something you enjoy and that opens up some new music for you.

And that is one of the joys of music. From a few buildings blocks you have an enormous variety of possibilities. If listening, and maybe playing, music is what you enjoy you can spend a lifetime being constantly surprised by it and noticing your tastes change in response. I never learned how to play a musical instrument (I tried the recorder and double bass at various times) but have loved listening ever since I first heard Jeff Wayne’s War of the Worlds as a 10-year-old.

The sting in the tail of Desert Island Discs is you are asked to imagine a calamity on your island that means you can only save one piece of music – what would it be? Here I would still give the same answer, I think, Rush - Natural Science. But ask me again in January ...

Yours faithfully,

Christmas Jumper Day

The last day of term (Friday 14th December) will be a mufti day. We are asking each student to bring £1 that will be donated to the Euston foodbank and wear a 'Christmas' jumper instead of their school jumper. However, we would like to encourage students to be mindful of their impact on the environment and not buy a new jumper that will only be worn once and then discarded. They can wear a Christmas colour – red or green or upgrade an existing jumper with Christmas embellishments.

We would like to remind you that we will be collecting the following items for Euston foodbank until next Tuesday (11th December)

Thank you very much to the students and parents who have already contributed to our food collection.

Christmas Concert

Our annual Christmas Concert at RADA Studio Theatre was a fantastic evening on Tuesday 4th December. Established and long serving students performed alongside our youngest, many gaining their first experience of performing. With nearly 50% of the school taking part, it was great to see the first contributions of the newly formed Boys Choir singing a Queen Medley and California Dreamin'. It was also our first live DJ set! Solos, duets and performances from the percussion, jazz and woodwind ensembles, the new Year 10 Rock Band, the Chamber Choir and PPS Choir joined by some staff made for a wonderful start to the festive season at PPS. Thanks to everyone who was involved and supported in so many ways.

Strive in Computing

Alan Turing, the father of Computer Science, arrived at Bletchley in 1939 and played a vital role in breaking German codes during the Second World War. The main focus of Turing's work at Bletchley was in cracking the 'Enigma' code. The Enigma was a type of enciphering machine used by the German armed forces to send messages securely.

Turing's article 'Computing machinery and intelligence', led to what is now known as the Turing Test. This test examines a machine's ability to demonstrate intelligent behaviour equivalent to or indistinguishable from a human.

Visiting Bletchley Park is a must for every student interested in Computer Science.

Strive in Music

The Strive initiative is in full swing at Portland Place School, it is pleasing to see many of our younger students developing their skills in their favourite subject areas. Jesse (Year 7) showcased his love for Music to complete a fantastic Strive Music presentation. Jesse's wonderful work highlighted all of his extra-curricular commitments, instrumental music lessons and music examinations. It is only fair that we acknowledge his recent hard work and commitment to Music at PPS. We look forward to seeing more of this dedication when we return in January.

Jesse Francis Baum receives Headmaster's Commendation

Jesse Francis Baum receiving a Headmaster's commendation for completing two Strive projects in Music and Chemistry. Well done Jesse!

Strive in Chemistry

Jesse in Year 7 has begun his strive journey in a fantastic style, not only using the suggested ideas in the booklet provided at the beginning of the year, but adopting some of his own and taking on board ours.

Jesse presented his recent experiments at home to the class showcasing his apparatus, methods and results through beautiful slides. He undertook experiments in electrolysis (tin dendrite), identifying sugars and ligand substitution reactions (invisible copper). The first two are topics students normally study in year 10 and the last is something normally studied in year 13! On top of this Jesse, visited the Sun exhibition at the Science Museum and explained to us what elements make up the Sun.

This is a great reflection of the science teaching provided here at Portland Place School. One which inspires students to develop a love of learning and an appreciation of a truly fascinating subject.

We look forward to forthcoming scientific presentations from Jesse and have no doubt that science will most likely be a part of his career in many years to come.

Drama trip to Pantomime

On Thursday, the Drama department thought it would be a good idea take the whole of Year 6 & 7 to the pantomime!! A theatre full of excited, screaming children fuelled by ice cream, sweets and fizzy drinks...I have had quieter and more relaxing afternoons. We have been going to the pantomime at the Lyric for the past three years; this was the best yet! Our students were very well behaved with some students experiencing a pantomime for the first time. I hope they told you all about it!

I want to use this opportunity to thank you all for supporting the Drama department this term. Parents, staff and students make our job extremely enjoyable and we look forward to starting Bussy Malone when we return in January! This trip was Mrs Lambert's last before she heads off on her maternity leave; she will be hugely missed! Waiting in the wings is Mrs Judd, who has already made a positive start to her time at PPS...Welcome aboard!!

Year 11 Sizewell B Trip

Twenty eight Year 11 pupils went to Sizewell B Nuclear Power Station last Wednesday.

The power station is a few miles the other side of Ipswich on the east coast. Using nuclear fission of Uranium-235 it produces 3% of the UK's electricity supply.

The pupils toured the power station, standing under the huge white dome which houses the reactor and entering the turbine and generator hall where the electricity is created. Throughout the trip our guides emphasised the safety and security implications of nuclear power.

The pupils were told about the steps taken to look after radioactive waste products. You may notice there are no chimneys putting carbon dioxide into the atmosphere since nothing is being burned.

A Night at the Grand Royal by Gordon Turner (Year 7)

The merchant walked up to the town. The big black boots crunching in the snow. He sees the light dimly as it is late into the night. "The Grand Royal", it says in the flashing fluorescent lights. The man walked in the building, unsure what it was going to be like.

"Good evening, would you like to book a room for tonight?" the lady behind the desk asked him in a very bored voice. Her pink hair was starting to show black underneath.

"Yes please" the businessman said in an American-English accent.

"You have a choice of the rooms between 11 and 14."

"That is no longer a room."

"Then 14."

"Please sign here" she said holding out the board to him. As he went into the hallway there was a sign that read "The Grand Royal" it was first built in the 1800s but some of it was destroyed in a fire and rebuilt in the early 2000s'. As he continued down the hallway, he saw the sign for room 12 twelve then a big gap of wall then the sign "14" on the door.

He was intrigued by the fact that room 13 had disappeared. The business-man slid his card into the access slot. The room was very simple as it had been built on a very small budget. It had a double bed, a desk, a bathroom and one painting on the white wall. He lay down on his bed at this time not bothering to change his clothes. He was about to go for a shower when he heard a whisper nearby: "Help me..." He stayed absolutely still on the bed. There it was again: "Help me". The businessman got up and search around for one looking for help. He froze, realising that it was coming from room 13. He thought that it was just a sound from his imagination as he had a few beers come along the road but – no. All the same... He was harrowed by the repetitive voice. He went to sleep. When he woke up, there was a young child looking at him with a head at a 45-degree angle. "It's just a dream. I'm really tired," he thought to himself and drifted off to sleep. How he woke up again, drench in sweat... "It was just a dream, just dream," he was convincing himself.

The next day the businessman went in to the town to do business with an important official in the towns. That was why he had come to the town for. After the business, the official gave his guest a tour of the town.

"So, what is the story of the Grand Royal?" the business man asked.

News

"It was burnt and rebuilt but there was a young family who were staying in the hotel at the time when it was burnt down and the parents got out but the young child did not. They were staying in room 13. Some say that the ghost of the child still haunted the hotel." That night the man wanted to do a little more investigating into the hotel.

"You forgot to leave your name on a list last night, sir" welcomed him a pink-haired woman from behind the desk.

"Tony Smith" he replied.

Tony had a shower and changed into his pyjamas, went under the sheets listening for the quiet "help me". He woke up in the room which looked like his but the young child with its head on a 45 degree angle stared at him...

"HELP ME!!!" yelled the child so loudly that Tony's ear drums nearly burst. The child was about 5 years old. With hands covered in and eyes as black as coal, the stranger didn't have to wait long for Tony's reaction. He sat on the bed still as a stone, quiet as a mouse, petrified with fear. The child was a third of his height but was four times as scary.

"I need to come out for one day," the child whispered menacingly.

"What do you mean?" Tony replied in a hoarse voice.

"I have been copped in here for 3 long years," replied the child, "I want to see the world and my parents".

"That seems reasonable," Tony thought. "Ok then, but be back by midnight tomorrow," he called out.

Tony waited for twenty-four long hours. When the child had finally come back, Tony was so ready to come back to his real world.

"Thanks for that," said the child, "but I loved it so much out there that I'm not coming back to this room ever again". Tony grabbed at the child but he was too quick for the man. The child disappeared with a still pop not to be seen or heard ever again.

Tony pounded the wall but it made no change. He was stuck there forever.

Well done to all year 8 & 9 boys who showed great determination and a fantastic team spirit throughout the whole tournament. It was extremely competitive, with closely fought battles in every single game! Unbelievably, there wasn't a clear golden boot winner, Leo Sargent, Dylan Young, Elliot Greenfield & Oscar Bolgar all scored 2! Man of the tournament has to go to Leo Sargent who was consistently excellent throughout. Year 9 House Table Tennis Tournament

A cracking start to Tuesday morning with a House competition: what a way to start the day! The Year 9 students were pumped for a competitive morning. The tournament started with a group stage. Each House had their own table and played against every other member of their House to determine the top two players. The hall had great atmosphere with all students involved and excited.

The players that went through to the next round were:

Langham – Dylan and Paul

Devonshire – Freddy and William

Wigmore – Oscar and Walter

Cavendish – Anton and Knud

The next round got really intense. All games were very close in score, with Freddy leading the pack at the end of the round. In the final, it was Knud v William in 3rd and 4th place, and Freddy v Anton in 1st and 2nd place. All of the Year 9 students gathered round to watch the final. With lots of cheering and supporting filling up GPS Hall. Freddy and Anton were head to head with points. Only within the last two serves did Anton get ahead to win by 2, making him the champion of the Year 9 Inter-house Table Tennis Tournament. Also meaning that Cavendish won!

Final places:

1st - Cavendish

2nd - Devonshire

3rd - Wigmore

4th - Langham

Year 6 and 7 House Table Tennis Tournament

There was a different set up for this house tournament: the students were separated into their houses and given 15 minutes to play each other to decide which 4 players would go through to the A tournament and which players, still earning points for their house, would play in the B tournament.

In the A tournament, the top 16 students were:

Langham – Anastasia, Riccardo, Tom and Isaac

Cavendish – Sid, Lawton, Josh and Lloyd

Wigmore – Gene, Josh, Benny and Leo

Devonshire – Kunal, Teddy, Ryder and Roberto

From here each participant played in a series of knockout rounds to progress through to the semi-finals. The atmosphere was pumping with students from all houses competing well and encouraging from all round. In the 5th/6th play offs we had Isaac vs Teddy – Isaac coming away winning and securing 5th place, Teddy 6th. The 3rd/4th play offs was Anastasia vs Lloyd – with Anastasia pushing through for 3rd place, Lloyd in 4th place. Finally, Lawton and Tom Hallam played a best of 3 final. It was neck and neck with each boy winning one round each, but in the last game, Lawton came away with a very close win! Congratulations Lawton and Cavendish House for 1st place in the A tournament.

In the B tournament Jesse Fryer-Jacobs of Langham took the win in the final against Sonny Shelton. Meanwhile, Daniel Calbucci defeated Emily Zhang in the 3rd/4th play-off. With the A competition results being quite tight, Langham's win in the B final swayed the result to give them the overall win in the Y6 & 7 tournament.

Final places:

1st - Langham

2nd - Cavendish

3rd - Devonshire

4th – Wigmore

U15 Netball Team topping Westminster League table

On Monday afternoon the U15 Netball team caught the tube up to Kilburn Park to play St George's Catholic School in a match for the Westminster League. The girls played 8 minute quarters on an indoor court, which everyone was happy about, with the weather getting colder. Ava Jones playing Centre this week, controlled the game alongside Freya Francis-Baum in Goal Attack, with Dasha Lebedeva again dominating in Goal Keeper with a new partner of Dot Jones, playing in Goal Defence. Dolly Gosling, Talitha Nooy and new recruit, Daya Uppell Kaur, worked hard throughout the game which the final score demonstrates their efforts. The girls fought hard throughout the entire match and came away with a strong win of 19:5. Player of the match this week goes to Ava Jones for her excellent control of possession and positive decision making throughout the match.

Netball

Portland's U15 girls have won the Westminster Netball League. This was an outstanding achievement which was worked hard for by the girls. The energy and dedication to practice in netball lessons has paid off. These girls have been playing together since Year 7, some previous girls have also been in the team and helped across the years for this title but for the fourth year in a row, these girls have again secured the top position.

This season the girls played games against Pimlico Academy, Grey Coat Hospital School, St Augustine's CE High School, St George's Catholic School and St Marylebone CE School. In the first match, Portland Place played Pimlico Academy where they dominated 16-5. Player of this match went to Dot Jones.

In the second round of the league, they played St Augustine's and comfortably won 11-1. Player of this match went to Marielle Staunton for excellent control of the game throughout. The girls also had a second game that week against Grey Coat Hospital. A much tougher game than they had experienced previously. They all had to fight strongly and work hard continually to get a win. Dasha Lebedeva was player of the match for this game due to her dominating goal keeping skills which assisted their 15-11 win!

In the final round of the league the girls needed to play St Marylebone CE School and St George's Catholic School. Due to unavailability to reschedule by St Marylebone, Portland Place scored the winning points to add to our undefeated streak already. They did however still get to play St George's for their final game. All of the girls played extremely well and like always fought for their win. So continuing to remain undefeated, the U15 girls came away with a strong 19-5 win! What a way to finish the league! Ava Jones fluently controlling the game from centre position, was awarded player of the match that week.

An enormous effort from the girls who played this season, please congratulate them on their victory: Ava Jones, Dot Jones, Freya Francis-Baum, Dasha Lebedeva, Marielle Staunton, Dolly Gosling, Beatrice Curto, Talitha Nooy, Amy Cooper and Daya Uppell.
